The Guildhall School of Music and Drama at the Barbican Centre in London marked the first successful open tender for our new Bristol-based design and installation team, facilitating Charcoalblue's specification for a comprehensive sound and communications installation.

Working within their main theatre, our team delivered an aesthetically pleasing solution that has interfaced with the building very well, and was supplied and commissioned on time and on budget.

"We have greatly enjoyed working with Fagans: they clearly relished the challenges of working in a listed building, resulting in an installation which completely meets the demands of our specification and is sensitively integrated into the existing fabric."
